7.	How was the Class advertised in the neighborhood?	Stoneybrook Garden Club via Email, Neighborhood Flyers, and facebook as well as TOC website
8.	How did the class go? A brief description	Wonderful program of a beautiful fall day at Page Walker. We learned about the use and importance of native plants for supporting wildlife, including shrubs such as Hawthorne that provides food and shelter for birds, pollinator plants and those adapted for hummingbirds.
9.	Incentives/giveaways if any offered	2 NWF Wildlife Habitat signs were given away to two participants who have registered their yards but do not have the signs. Stoneybrook now has approximately 10 yards certified under Cary Garden for Wildlife program. All participants were given seeds for 2 native plants- milkweed and black-eyed Susan seeds. Raffle was also done for 2 CGNP water bottles.
10.	Any green event guidelines followed?	Many! Minimal paper or any other waste to promote the program or during the program. Some carpooling. No air-conditioning or artificial lighting as all in the outdoors. Minimum number of brochures made available from the TOC, but few taken as most had the information previously or electronically. Nothing was purchased for the event. Electronic thank you's.
